MORE MINERS WORK.

Greater Number of Collieries Are Being Operated.

INDEPENDENTS IDLE.

Some of the Men, It Is Asserted by Other Parties, Will Not Be Benefitted if Strict Agreement Is Observed.

Pittsburg, April 4.—More mines were in operation in the Pittsburg district Wednesday than Tuesday, but none had a full complement of miners at work. The Pittsburg Coal company reported forty-three railroad mines running and eleven idle. Along the Monongahela and Youngloughney rivers twelve mines were in operation and fifteen closed down. No work is being done in any independent mines, and operators say they will soon be closed down indefinitely. It was confidently expected by operators, who signed the scale Monday, that all miners would all be at work by this time. Their reluctance to return to the mines is now said to be in a measure due to a discovery of an under agreement signed by many miners in the Pittsburg district who will work for less money and under more unfavorable conditions than they did last year, and that none of the miners will be benefited to any extent if operators insist on the strict letter of the agreement being observed. It is said valuable concessions were secured under former agreements, such as 10 per cent deduction on house rent and company store goods and extra pay for "dead work," not named in the new contract.

SLICK STAMP SWINDLE.

Three Letter Carriers Are Charged With Perpetrating It.

New York, April 4.—Three letter carriers of Station B were arrested by postal inspectors, charged with working a new swindle. The men are George Davidson, William C. Spencer and John J. Mahoney.

The alleged fraud consisted in affixing cancelled postage due stamps for 10 cents to letters from foreign countries, after removing the foreign stamps. The carrier then collected the face of the postage due stamps from the receiver of the letter. Sometimes the same game was worked with foreign letters that lacked a stamp, and then the government was the loser.

An unusually large incoming foreign mail is handled at Station B. Many of the senders of letters passing through this branch are European peasants, and often neglect to affix the requisite amount of postage to their letters. So many are the unstamped letters that some slip through the hands of the distributing clerks and are given to the carriers unstamped. It was the other letters that brought about a discovery of the trick. New York asked Budapest and Cracow why they did not stamp their letters and help their friends save nickels, and Budapest and Cracow responded that they did stamp them. Then complaints from New York rained into the postoffice. Investigation, it is alleged, developed that Spencer, Mahoney and Davidson were buying large quantities of cancelled "postage due" stamps from dealers in stamps. For these they paid $2 per 100, it is alleged.

SLEPT SEVEN WEEKS.

Miss Florence Parker Resumes Normal State and Leaves Hospital.

Los Angeles, April 4.—Miss Florence Parker, whose mysterious sleep for seven weeks excited the interest of the medical fraternity, has left the hospital. Miss Parker is the daughter of a wealthy Arizona mining man. She began her strange sleep at Tucson, Ariz., and gradually lapsed into a coma. For weeks she lay in a trance, and until about two weeks ago there was little hope of her recovery. She began to recover consciousness, however, and has gradually come into her normal condition.

RAGING RIVER.

Ohio Continues to Rise and Many Farms Under Water.

Evansville, Ind., April 4.—The highest water mark here was forty-eight feet in 1884. The present rise will probably go to forty-two feet. The rise continued Wednesday, the gauge marking 40.7 feet in the morning, and still rising. Some factories located on Pigeon creek, in the lower part of the city, ceased operation because of backwater caused by the river. Great wheat farms above and below the city are under water, but it is believed that if the water recedes quickly many crops can be saved.

STRANGE STORY.

Eveleth, Minn., April 4.—The bristle of a toothbrush which lodged in her throat a year ago last January has just been extricated from an arm of Miss Helen Zeltar, who lives near here.

QUARANTINE PASSES.

Measure For National Supervision Is Adopted by House.

TEXANS OPPOSE BILL

Congressmen Henry, Burleson and Burgess Spoke in Opposition and Williams, Its Author, Defended the Same.

Washington, April 4.—By a vote of 202 to 26 the house passed the national quarantine bill. The bill places the control of all quarantine stations, grounds and anchorages under the secretary of the treasury, and directs that as soon as practicable after the approval of the act he shall select and designate such suitable places for them, and establish the same at such points on or near the sea coast of the United States and on the Mexican border as in his judgment are best suited for the same, in order to prevent the introduction of yellow fever into the United States.

The bill gives the secretary of the treasury the right to establish a quarantine station at the Dry Tortugas islands, and at such other points at or near the sea coast (not to exceed four in the aggregate) as he deems necessary.

The bill also provides that every common carrier engaged in interstate commerce shall receive and carry through any state or territory, passengers, freight and baggage which may have been discharged and properly certified in accordance with the regulations of the public health and marine hospital service, and every person interfering with or obstructing such carrier or any passenger or any instrumentality of commerce in any such carriage or journey shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $300, or be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. It is provided that this section shall not be construed as giving authority to any person to debark or unload freight in any locality contrary to the lawful state regulations.

Out of the above petition grew a whole day's debate, the opposition to the measure coming from divided delegations in the southern states.

The bill carries an appropriation of $500,000.

Mr. Henry of Texas, in opposing the measure, had read a telegram from Jackson, Miss., stating that the house appropriation committee had agreed to unfavorably report the appropriation bill for the state board of health.

Mr. Henry said that no one doubted the right of congress to control interstate commerce, but he contended that disease, pestilence and contagion were not subjects of commerce, although sometimes among the attendant evils.

Mr. Henry said, representing 3,000,000 people in part, he would resist with all his might the aim of congress to take away from the people of Texas the right to make their own quarantine regulations, the right, he said, given the states by the constitution. "The government has not the power to interfere with the quarantine regulations of the state of Texas," he added.

Mr. Burleson of Texas thought there was nothing more than commerce involved in the bill, and he resisted the idea that quarantine regulations belonged to the Federal authority when the states were capable of policing their own boundaries. He made the statement that Texas did not want any interference with the quarantine laws. It only wanted to be let alone. When yellow fever breaks out in Louisiana, he said, Texas says, "You can't come into the state," and what is true of Louisiana is true of every other state.

"I am greatly interested in this bill," said Mr. Williams of Mississippi, "and as its author, I want to say that nobody, not even an idiot, ever thought the state had any authority outside of its boundaries. This bill is a public necessity," he said. "There is not a thing in this bill that any more touches the sacred rights of the state, reserved and not delegated, than the effluvia of a dead cat in the desert of Sahara could affect the atmosphere of the Arctic circle."

Mr. Burgess of Texas spoke in opposition.

Mr. Tawney of Minnesota moved to strike out the section carrying an appropriation of $500,000 to carry out the purposes of the act. This was opposed by several members, and was defeated by a vote of 116 to 55.

Mr. Henry then offered an amendment the senate bill which, he stated, had passed that body unanimously. It was defeated.

WALK-OVER FOR A. AND M.

Trinity University Team Defeated by a Score of 13 to 0 in Seven Innings.

The A. and M. baseball team handed a goose egg to the Trinity University team of Waxahachie on the Allen Academy grounds in this city yesterday afternoon and easily ran up the score in their favor to a lucky 13 in seven innings. The outcome being merely a matter of piling up a larger score, the game was called at the end of the seventh inning to permit the players to go by the I. & G. N. train to College, where they will have another game this afternoon.

A fair sized crowd witnessed the game yesterday afternoon, but the contest was so one sided that it aroused but little interest. Trinity's failure to make a better showing was largely due to errors in judgement manifested in not knowing what to do with the ball when they got it.

Hamilton of Allen Academy was umpire. A. and M. battery, Smith and Wessendorf. Trinity battery, Templeton, White and Orr.

A. and M.—Three base hit, Kelly 1; two base hits, Kelly 2, Hackney 1, Wessendorf 1. Struck out by Smith 13.

Trinity—Struck out by Templeton 5; by Orr 1.

The cadets will probably send the visitors home tonight burdened with a still larger score.

ACQUIRE AND CONTROL.

City of Chicago, However, Cannot Operate Street Railways.

Chicago, April 4.—As a result of the election Chicago can proceed to acquire and control street railways, but cannot operate them. The proposition, "shall the city of Chicago proceed to operate street railways?" lacked 17,792 votes of receiving 60 per cent in favor of it.

The second proposition, providing for issuance of street railway certificates, not to exceed $75,000,000, for purchase, ownership and maintenance of street railways, carried—110,008 to 106,669.

The third question, which was simply a question of public policy, and has no legal effect whatever, is "shall the city council proceed without delay to secure the municipal ownership and operation of the street railways under the Mueller law instead of granting franchises to private companies?" This carried by a vote of 111,862 to 108,025.

Mayor Dunne claims nineteen of the twenty-five aldermen elected favor municipal ownership.

The liquor interests made a strong fight against every alderman who was up for re-election who had voted for the Lyon license of $1,000. Of the fifteen men against whom they put their influence twelve were elected and three defeated. Of the nine aldermen up for re-election who voted for the continuance of $500 license all were returned.

DOWIE WIRES.

"First Apostle" Desires Full Report of Sunday's Proceedings.

Chicago, April 4.—The following message was received at Zion City from Dowie, who is at present at Oculan, Mexico: "Wire immediately full report of Sunday's meeting."

"FIRST APOSTLE." The meeting Sunday was that in which Overseer Voliva openly repudiated Dowie, and declared he would no longer follow him or obey his orders. A meeting of the officers of Zion City and the Church of Zion was held Tuesday, and it was decided that it was necessary to raise at once $500,000 for the complete financial rehabilitation of the Zion City, its church and industries. Land and other property will be pledged to raise the necessary amount, and numerous offers have been received from creditors endorsing the plan, and promising assistance.

He was famous for his intense admiration of men prominent in the sporting world, and was tattooed with the likeness of John L. Sullivan, Mike Kelly, the famous baseball player, and others. He was fifty-five years old.

After a Session of Three Hours Adjourned Until Thursday.

New York, April 4.—The subcommittee representing the anthracite operators and the mine workers of eastern Pennsylvania held their first joint meeting here Tuesday, and after nearly a three-hour session, adjourned until 1 p. m. Thursday without coming to an agreement. Each side to the controversy has refused to make the slightest concession, and the whole question, apparently is as far from solution as it was before Tuesday's conference began. In the meantime the tieup of the anthracite industry remains complete.

Washington, April 4.—The house committee on Indian affairs agreed to an amendment to the bill recently passed, but returned by the president, opening for purchase 505,000 acres of pasture lands belonging to the Kiowa, Apache and Comanche Indians in Oklahoma. The president's objection to the measure was that the price fixed of $1.50 an acre for this land was too low. The price agreed upon was $5 an acre.

Power of Attorney Revoked.

Chicago, April 4.—Dowie has telegraphed Judge Barnes, head of the law department of Zion City, ordering him to revoke the power of attorney of Overseer Voliva and appoint F. H. Wilhite. Dowie returns at once to Chicago.

ANCIENT WATER VILLAGES.

Relic of Old Customs Prevailing in the "Spreevald."

One of the most interesting regions in the "old fatherland" is the so called
"Spreevald," the forest of the Spree, situated not far from the German capital, in the province of Brandenburg.
Each village is a little Venice, every house a little island, and these islets are connected by bridges sufficiently raised to allow boats to pass under them. Most of the houses, with their barns and stables, rest on piles, and there is generally a strip of artificial terra firma either in front or at the rear of every building. By means of these land strips and of the bridges the slender land communication is kept throughout the district, but most of the business and amusement are carried on through the canals, which not only form the main highways, but penetrate and cross and recross the whole region. It is on these lagoons that all traffic is conducted in boats during the period from spring when the last vestiges of frost and ice are disappearing until the end of autumn. You see the letter carrier shoot up and down the canals, performing his duties in his frail craft; the police glide leisurely along the banks, watching everything going on; peasants bring the products of their toil to the nearest towns; children go to and from school; young mothers, dressed in their Sunday clothes, are rowed to church, carrying in their arms a small, queer looking bundle from which two large eyes in a tiny face stare at the stranger in wonderment—baby is going to be baptized, an important moment with this strongly religious people.—Technical World Magazine.

DREAM MYSTERY.

The Events That May Be Crowded
Into a Few Seconds.

The duration of a dream is so seldom accurately measured that a story published in the St. Louis Medical Record is worth repeating.

The writer, a doctor, was seized with an uncontrollable drowsiness during a call and was struggling to keep awake
when he was asked by his companion,
"How long may you stay in B.?" His answer, which came promptly enough, was, "That depends on the Western Union," and, catching himself, he explained that he was expecting a telegram. In fact, however, his answer related to the facts of a dream which had been sandwiched between the two parts of the sentence.

After hearing the words "How long"
the doctor had dozed off, dreamed that after long and tedious experiments he had invented a wonderful apparatus for holding telegraph poles in a vertical position, had negotiated with the postal company for its sale, but unsuccessfully, and had finally gone to the authorities of the other company.
They, in the dream, told him they were considering a German invention for the same purpose, and the dreamer crossed the ocean to examine the rival device, returned, explained the differences to the intending purchaser and was writing a reply when he woke in time to hear the end of his companion's question.

The events of the dream had apparently consumed months, yet the actual time that elapsed was merely that required for uttering about four short words.

Precedent For "Governess."

Albert VII., archduke of Austria, married Isabella Clara Eugenie, infanta of Spain, who brought to him as dowry the sovereignty of the Low Countries, etc. When Philip IV. of Spain ascended the throne in 1621 he took from his aunt the sovereignty of the Low Countries, but left her the title of governess. Her husband died soon after, whereon she took the veil, though still retaining the reins of government.
She died at Brussels in 1633, aged sixty-six. Here there is precedent for the use of the word governess when a lady holds the post.—London Notes and Queries.

Paid For the Opinion.

Shortly after Chief Justice Purley of the court of appeals of New Hampshire had retired from the bench and resumed the practice of his profession
a man called on him to get his opinion in a certain matter. After stating his case clearly he said, "Well, judge, what do you think of my case?" The judge promptly replied, "I think you are a scoundrel." "How much do I owe you for that opinion?" inquired the client.
"Ten dollars," demanded the judge.
The fee was promptly paid.

THROAT EXERCISES.

Evils That Come From Misuse of the Vocal Organs.

The chronic sore throat is not infrequently produced by the misuse of the vocal organs. Very often that unruly little member, the tongue, is accountable for the difficulty, as it is for a great many other troubles in this transitory life. Many people have a habit when talking of pushing the tongue so far back against the delicate membranes that line the throat that irritation more or less painful is caused, and if it continues a length of time ulcers will form, and so will a doctor's bill.

Control of the tongue is excellent in all senses of the word. Physically this organ may be managed by depressing
it into a hollow at a point three-quarters of an inch back of where the tip of it comes when in a natural position in the mouth and at the same time singing very light head tones. This exercise requires some patience at first, but the habit of keeping the tongue down is soon acquired. In speaking or singing it should not be allowed to hoop up and fill the mouth, thus interfering with the free passage of the tones of the voice from the throat to the front of the mouth, where they should strike and then escape clear as a bell. This hooping up of the tongue in the mouth is the cause of much of the indistinct and slovenly utterances to which we are too often obliged to listen.

In many people we notice the line from the point of the chin to the neck is in the form of a right angle. In a shapely throat this line forms a curve, just as a canary's does when the small yellow artist is warbling his carols.

To develop the throat and make this angle a curve stand before a mirror so that you may watch the throat swell out. Now thrust your tongue out as far as it will go, then draw it back quickly and forcibly, at the same time bringing it downward in the mouth as far as you can. Place your thumb and forefinger against the larynx (commonly called the Adam's apple), and if you are making the right movement you will feel the larynx pass downward.
For a week or two make the movements lightly. After that time put as much force into it as you can. The exercise should be practiced for a few minutes several times a day to insure rapid and good results.

To fill up the hollows of the neck stand correctly and then slowly fill the lungs with air without elevating your shoulders. As the air is forced upward into the throat hold it there a few seconds and then expel slowly. This exercise is best performed soon after rising in the morning and before retiring at night.—New York Post.

Time and Eternity.

The stream of time never runs dry,
and the ocean of eternity will forever send its mighty surges mountain high against the bank of time's little stream, sweeping with each receding billow over its expansive bosom the frail human craft from the shore of time, with earth's happiness, human affection, toil, trials, tears and sin, to the eternal shore of celestial beauty and bliss. Oh, mighty ocean of eternity, your wonderful anthem of life and death brings eternal woe and condemnation to him who is untrue to himself and his divine pilot, but to the trusting, faithful man it sings of endless felicity in the presence of time who has redeemed his people from the bondage of sin and has swept them through the pearly gates.—Ducktown (Tenn.) Gazette.

The Wonderful Diatom.

One of the most wonderful things in vegetable life is a beautiful and minute class of seaweeds called diatoms.
They belong to the seaweed family,
yet they may be found by the thousands in any roadside ditch, fresh or salt water lake or even in cisterns, wells, springs, etc. Most species of plants are made up of an infinite number of little cells, but with the diatom it is otherwise. Each representative of this wonderful family of plants is formed of but a single cell and this so minute that it would require 2,500 of the most common form, laid end to end, to make a string an inch in length.
Some species of diatoms have the power of independent motion, and on that account were for some time believed to be animals.

ONE MINUTE

One Minute Cough Cure gives relief in one minute, because it kills the microbe which tickles the mucous membrane, causing the cough, and at the same time clears the phlegm, draws out the inflammation and heals and soothes the affected parts.
One Minute Cough Cure strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia and is a harmless and never failing cure in all curable cases of Coughs, Colds and Croup.

Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure and gave her three doses half an hour apart. The croup was mastered and our little darling speedily recovered. I cannot praise One Minute Cough Cure too much for what it has done in our family.—A. L. Spafford, Postmaster, Chester, Mich.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Eagle is authorized to announce the following candidates for the district, county and precinct offices respectively indicated, subject to the action of the democratic primaries:

For Congress—6th District
T. S. HENDERSON
Of Cameron, Milam County.

For Congress—6th district
RUFUS HARDY
Of Corsicana, Navarro County.

For Congress—8th District
RICHARD MAYES
Of Corsicana, Navarro County.

For District Attorney—20th District
J. M. RALSTON (Re-election)
Of Cameron, Milam County.

BRYAN, TEXAS, APRIL 5, 1906

The Boers have put in claims against the British government for the destruction of their property during the war of over $300,000.

Dallas voters have adopted the elective commission form of municipal government by a large majority. The commission idea is steadily growing in favor.

The candidates were present at Austin in large numbers during the special session of the legislature. It was doubtless a rare occasion for making political soundings.

As the Eagle sees it, the race for governor is shaping up with Bell leading the field and Campbell second. We believe the contest is principally between these two, though the other candidates will have to be reckoned with.

After considerable parleying and playing politics, which should have been cut out, the legislature finally attended to the business for which it was called together—the correction of the Terrell election law—and adjourned Tuesday night at 9 o'clock.

AT THE GATE.

We stood at the gate as the sun went down
Behind the grassy hills on a summer day;
Her eyes were large and tender and brown.
Her breath was as sweet as the meadow hay.
From the far west the crimson sun-shine
Danced and sparkled on her golden hair;
Her tender brown eyes were turned to mine,
And a light of contentment rested there.
I see her bathed in the sunshine flood,
I see her standing peacefully now,
Quietly standing and chewing her cud,
As I patted her nose—that old pet cow.

Students Coming From Far Away India.

On Monday morning a letter was received addressed to this college from a student in India. He is asking information regarding this school, and expressed his intention of entering here within a few months. The A. & M. College has come into prominence apparently all over the world. There can be no doubt that the standard of our course has made an enviable name for the school. The fact that it is located here in the middle of a vast cotton and rice growing section as well as its being near the cattle ranches makes it a potent influence in these industries. People from a distance naturally expect to find stock and agricultural experts here and they are not disappointed. —Battalion.

TRAINING DOGS.

Poodles the Easiest to Teach, Dachshunds the Most Difficult.

A poodle is the easiest of all to train, and the dachshund is the most difficult, the latter not because he is too stupid, but because he is too smart. A dachshund readily understands what you want him to do, and he can do it, but he thinks he knows a better way, and he invariably tries his way first. As a result, he is never trained in anything that is really difficult. A dachshund seems to be always poking fun at one and getting no little amusement out of it for himself. Collies are easily trained, but they are more or less unreliable, and they are such flatterers. They make you think things are all right and then they run away at the very first opportunity. In preference to other dogs, collies are trained almost exclusively in the militia of Vienna for carrying, in time of war, messages and medicine to and from the camp and the sick soldiers, but they are chosen more for their speed than their faithfulness. Fox terriers are natural acrobats. Within a few weeks one can be trained to turn a somersault. A few weeks more and he will do a double turn. To teach him to do this the trainer calls the animal to him, and as he comes jumping playfully against the trainer he is caught and turned quickly in the air, much to his surprise. He thinks it is play, and he comes jumping up again. After each turn he is given a small piece of meat. In a few weeks he will run up and try independently to do the turn over in the air for the meat, and if he is encouraged it will not be long before he is an accomplished acrobat.—Leslie's Weekly.

ERRATIC ENGINES

Locomotives That Act as Though They Were Bewitched.

You never see a ship launched on a Friday, and similarly a new locomotive hardly ever makes a trial trip on that day or on the 13th of the month. Even though the superintendent may jeer at the superstition, yet he knows too well to set it at naught, for just as sailors consider that some ships are unlucky so do train hands credit certain locomotives with a sort of demoniacal possession.

It is certainly very strange the difference that may be observed between two locomotives built from the same plans, at the same time, of similar material. One goes on her way quietly and smoothly, never breaks down, costs little or nothing for repairs. The other causes trouble from the very first, runs off the line, kills the drivers, gets into accidents of all kinds and generally acts as though possessed by some evil spirit.

There was a famous instance some years ago on the South Florida railway. A locomotive killed so many people that she got the name of "the hearse," and no fewer than three engine drivers actually left the employ of the company rather than continue driving her. The odd thing was that she never seemed to injure herself. Eventually the owners were forced to break her up, although she was by no means worn out.

Of actual ghosts in trains or railway engines one very seldom hears.—New York Herald.

The Art of Flattery.

There are those who have an instinct which prompts them to offer verbal caresses to all with whom they come in contact, and there is no doubt that, if such people are gifted at the same time with good hearts, they greatly sweeten life. They do not know how to say much less write, a disagreeable sentence. They see with their mind's eye the exact spot where a flattering word would produce pleasure or save a smart, and the temptation to say it is very great. The pleasure they produce delights them, and they study to produce it again. No doubt they practice an art, but not a very black art, and it is difficult not to like them, especially if they are women. Real flattery—the really false article—can hardly exist with a warm heart. Plenty of folly and too much desire to be popular may go with that, but nothing else.—Family Herald.

Church Built of Bulrushes.

The first place of worship in Western Australia was unique in two respects—the materials of which it was built and also the several purposes to which it was devoted. This remarkable building was made at Perth by soldiers shortly after their first arrival in 1829 and was composed almost entirely of bulrushes. In addition to its use on Sundays for divine worship, it occasionally served as an amateur theater during the week and during the whole time as a barracks.

The Pawnbroker's Sign.

The pawnbroker's sign came from the sign used by the Lombard bankers, who took it from the sign used by the Medici family of Florence. The founder of the house had been a medicus, or physician. His descendants became bankers and brokers, and their sign was their ancestor's golden pills. When they became nobles they assumed as arms six golden pills or balls on a blue field.

Sunny People.

The world delights in sunny people. The old are hungering for love more than for bread. The air of joy is very cheap, and if you can help the poor on with a garment of praise it will be better for them than blankets.—Henry Drummond.

The Critical Period.

Duffer—One is born every minute, you know. Puffer—Yes, but they're not listed till they get old enough to think they are not.—Indianapolis Star.

THE GIANTS OF OLD

ANCIENT RACES MARVELS OF PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT.

The Semibarbarians of One Thousand Years Ago Were All Remarkably Proportioned Men—The Giants of Ancient Greece and Rome.

That the human race has degenerated in size as well as longevity is a fact well attested by various authorities. A prominent Washington physician who has made a life study of brain and cerebral developments, says that, on visiting the catacombs of Paris, what struck him most in those vast repositories of the contents of the city's ancient graveyards was the great size of the skulls in comparison with those of more modern mankind. This superiority of development in the men who lived 1,000 years or more ago the scientist attributes to the open air life then in vogue and the physical sports and exercises indulged in.

There are several races of giants mentioned in the Bible, and the Greek and Roman historians have recorded many examples which serve to show that these specimens of elongated humanity were by no means rare at one period of the world's history.

Thus it is mentioned that the Emperor Maximian was eight feet some inches high. The body of Orestes, according to the Greeks, was eleven and a half feet in height, the giant Galbora, brought from Arabia to Rome under Claudius Caesar, measured near ten feet, and the bones of Secondilla and Pusio, keepers of the gardens of Salust, were but six inches shorter.

The probability is that outside of cultivated Greece and Rome among the semibarbarous of the greater part of present day European nations physical development reached often to more wondrous proportions.

The Chevalier Scory in his voyage to the peak of Tenerife says that they found in one of the sepulchral caverns of that mountain the head of a Guanche which had eighty teeth and that the body was not less than fifteen feet long. The giant Ferragus, slain by Orlando, nephew of Charlemagne, was eighteen feet high.

Reyland, a celebrated anatomist who wrote in 1614, says that some years before that time there was to be seen in the suburbs of St. Germaine the tomb of the giant Isoret, who was twenty feet high.

At Rouen in 1500, in digging in the ditches near the Dominicans, there was found a stone tomb containing a skeleton whose shin bone reached up to the girdle of the tallest man there, being about four feet long, and consequently the body must have been seventeen or eighteen feet high. Upon the tomb was a plate of copper upon which was engraved, "In this tomb lies the noble and puissant lord, the Chevalier Ruon de Vallemont, and his bones." There is, indeed, evidence in the ponderous armor and two handed swords which remain to us in museums to prove that the knight of the ages of chivalry was a heroic specimen of human architecture.

Platerius, a famous physician, declared that he saw at Lucerne the true human bones of a subject who must have been at least nineteen feet high.

Valance, in Dauphine, boasts of possessing the bones of the giant Bucart, tyrant of the Vivarais, who was slain by an arrow by the Count de Cabillon, his vassal. The Dominicans had a part of his shin bone, with the articulation of the knee, and his figure painted in fresco, with an inscription showing that this giant was twenty-two and one-half feet high and that his bones were found in 1705 near the banks of the Moderi, a little river at the foot of the mountain of Crusol, upon which (tradition says) the giant dwelt.

On Jan. 11, 1623, some masons digging near the ruins of a castle in Dauphine, in a locality which had long been known as the Giant's field, at the depth of eighteen feet discovered a brick tomb thirty feet long, twelve feet wide and eight feet high, on which was a gray stone, with the words "Theotobochus Rex" cut thereon. When the tomb was opened they found a human skeleton, entire, twenty-five and one-half feet long, ten feet wide across the shoulders and five feet deep from the breastbone to the back. The teeth were each about the size of an ox's foot, and his shin bone measured four feet.

Near Margarine, in Sicily, in 1516, was found a giant thirty feet high. His head was the size of a hog's head, and each of his teeth weighed five ounces.

Near Palermo, in the valley of Magara, in Sicily, a skeleton of a giant thirty feet long was found in the year 1546 and another thirty-three feet high in 1550. Several of the gigantic bones of the latter subject are still preserved by private persons in Italy.

The Athenians found thirty-two famous skeletons, one thirty-four and another thirty-six feet in height.

At Totie, in Bohemia, in 758, was found a skeleton the head of which could scarcely be encompassed by the arms of two men together and whose legs, which are still preserved in the castle of the city, were twenty-six feet long.

The celebrated English scientist, Sir Hans Sloane, who treated the matter very learnedly, does not doubt the facts above narrated, but thinks the bones were those of elephants, whales or other animals. But it has been well remarked that, while elephants' bones may be shown for those of giants to superficial observers, this can never impose upon such distinguished anatomists as have testified in many cases to the mammoth bones being unmistakably human.—Philadelphia Record.

Be patient with every one, but above all with yourself.—Francis.

ANOTHER SURVIVOR.

Entombed Twenty-Five Days, but in Excellent Condition.

Lens, France, April 4.—Another survivor of the Courrieres mine disaster of March 11 has been discovered and brought to the surface. The finding of another miner after twenty-five days' entombment caused intense excitement. He is in good condition. According to statements, this man, named August E. Eerton, suffered less than the preceding rescued men. He is thirty-two years old and is a native of the same place as Nemy, the leader of the thirteen men rescued March 30.

As the news spread through the region it caused extreme exasperation against the engineers who have been directing the salvage work. M. Leon, state engineer, when he arrived at the pit, was surrounded by a crowd of people, who cursed and swore at him, one woman going so far as to strike the engineer.

BLANCO NO MORE.

Former Governor General of Cuba Departs This Life at Madrid.

Madrid, April 4.—General Blanco, formerly governor general of Cuba, died Wednesday morning. He was sent to Cuba to succeed General Weylar, whose conduct in suppressing the rebellion on the island shocked the humanitarian feeling of the civilized world. He started on a policy of pacification, but the Cuban people did not trust him, and his experience on the island was not happy. When the war with the United States broke out Blanco did not enter on a defense of the island with much success, and as soon as it was over resigned and returned to Spain in November, 1898.

Woolen Will Wear IN ALL WEATHERS

Argue as they will, one fact remains: Cotton adulterated cloth will neither keep its shape nor wear under any conditions. Pure woolen cloth will. Our Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes are made of pure woolens, tested by the wool test, which is the beginning of all

Stein-Bloch Clothes

The only reason why cotton is substituted for wool in mercerized fabrics is to cheapen the goods. A house is no stronger than its foundation. So with clothes. Cheap fabrics mean cheap clothes; and no matter how shrewdly they are tailored, they will be untrustworthy. Stein-Bloch employ no mercerized or cotton adulterated fabrics. Their goods are pure caustic-tested wool, and the clothes made from them wear and keep their shape.

The Stein-Bloch Wool Test

The Stein-Bloch Wool Test consists of a boiling solution of water and caustic potash, the chemical action of which dissolves wool but not cotton. The two samples here shown were originally of the same length, the test proved one to be all wool, consuming the part immersed and leaving only the blackened edge. The other proved to be an adulteration containing a large per cent of mercerized cotton.

Stein-Bloch Suits $17.50 to $25.00

Kirschbaum Suits $10.00 $12.50 $15.00

Kirschbaum Clothing Plant is the largest in the world, and these clothes from $10.00 to $15.00 have no equal. Give us a look, we can please you.

SECTION RESTORED.

Senate Bill Passes, and the Legislature Adjourns.

Austin, April 4.—Section 120 of the election law was corrected, the governor inspected the act, sent to the secretary of state, and it is now in the archives. The blanket primary advocates gave up further attempts to pass a measure to that end. All members drew warrants for pay. At 9 o'clock Tuesday night the second called session passed into history.

Following is the text of Section 120 as it passed at the first called session of the Twenty-ninth legislature in May last, and as it has now been corrected to read:

Sec. 20. The candidate for any county office who received either a plurality or majority vote of all the votes cast in his county, as provided for in Sec. 111 of this act, shall be entitled to be placed upon the official ballot as a candidate of his party for the office for which he was nominated. Candidates for all state and district offices shall, in the nominating convention, have prorated among them the convention vote of each county in proportion to the vote cast for each candidate in the primary election in such county. In district and state conventions at the end of each ballot cast, the candidate receiving the smallest vote shall be dropped from the list of candidates to be voted for on the next ballot. Each county delegation upon each ballot cast for candidates being voted for shall cast for each of such candidates the vote of the county or his prorata part of the county vote as long as the name of such candidate is before the convention. Whenever the name of any candidate is withdrawn or dropped from the convention, then the delegation of each county may cast the instructed vote, or any part thereof, of such county for such dropped or withdrawn candidate whose name is then before the convention, as the delegation may decide. The convention shall continue to ballot until some one of the candidates balloted for shall receive a majority of all the votes of the convention, when he shall be declared the nominee of the party for the office for which he is nominated. Each county in the state or district convention shall be entitled to one vote for each 300 votes or major fraction thereof cast for the candidate for governor of the political party holding the convention at the last preceding general election. In case at such general election there were cast for such candidate for governor less than 300 votes in any county, then all such counties shall have one vote. The result of the nominating convention of a district shall be certified by the chairman thereof to the county clerks of the counties composing such district, and of a state convention to the secretary of state, who shall in turn certify the same to all county clerks.

TALL STRUCTURE.

Proposed Singer Building Will Be a Tremendous Affair.

New York, April 4.—The proposed building that the Singer Sewing Machine Manufacturing company will be one of the most unique and imposing skyscrapers ever erected in this city.

PROPOSED SINGER BUILDING AT NEW YORK. Of numerous large and tall buildings, if the accepted design of the architect is carried out in detail New York will have a structure that will be a marvel of architectural skill, to say nothing of the mighty and marvelous handiwork of the building contractor. Its immensity can be judged by this accurate copy of the plans.

MAY SOON END.

Several Operators, It Is Said, Will at Once Resume Work.

Fort Smith, April 4.—There was a decided impression here Wednesday that the suspension of work in the coal mines of this section would end within a day or two. Peter Stewart, the member for this district of the national board of the United Mine Workers, stated that several operators who had decided to sign the 1903 scale would arrive at Fort Smith in a few hours and that work in the mines controlled by these men would be resumed. It is believed that so soon as one company signs the others in this vicinity will follow suit.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS.

Only Four Democrats Elected to the Council of Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City, April 4.—Every one of the fourteen members of the upper house of the new city council is Republican and ten of the fourteen members of the lower house of same. The four Democratic members of the lower house were the only Democrats successful in the election of councilmen Tuesday. None voted for or favored extension ordinance that were before the late council. Mayor-elect Beardsley, Republican, has a majority of 1,550. The Socialist vote was trivial.

His Advantage.

First Man—How do you do? Second Man—Beg pardon, but you have the advantage of me. First Man—Yes; I guess I have. We were engaged to the same girl, but you married her.

PIANO EXPERIMENTS.

Playing by Sweeping the Strings With a Feather.

Open wide your piano so that the wires are exposed. Over the wires place sheets of music, and when you strike a tone you will find that it has a rattling sound. If now you play a tune in the same manner, with the sheets of music still lying on the strings, it will sound as if the instrument were a banjo. Anyhow, it is a good imitation.

Now remove the music sheets and press down gently, but firmly, the keys belonging to any cord. Take the simple cord C, E, G, for example. The keys must be pressed down without sounding them and held down while some one gently brushes the strings with a feather or a straw. The effect will be as if the cord were played far away and is heard by you as very soft tones.

Change the cord, always pressing down the keys without sounding them, while the feather still sweeps the strings lightly. In this way you may modulate or play a slow piece, and the effect will be very beautiful, indeed, as if heard from a great distance.

The reason of this is that ordinarily a damper rests against each string, but when the corresponding key is struck or pressed down the damper is raised. In sweeping the strings with the feather, lightly, only the strings that are undamped sound, the others being held mute by the dampers, but if the touch of the feather is too heavy even the other strings may sound, so your care must be in making a light and delicate touch.

Now press down a key gently and hold it. Strike very hard the octave above this key, but do not hold it after striking the tone. When the wire of the tone struck has been sufficiently damped, so that it does not sound so loud, the pressed down key will be heard to "sing" clearly, even though it was not struck. This is because every note struck is composed of several notes, being in reality a cord in itself, and each note contained in that cord causes the corresponding note in the keyboard to vibrate, or "sing," in sympathy if held down in like manner.

The other notes that will sound under these conditions will always be the fifth above the octave, the second octave and the third and fifth above that, and these tones that sound are called "overtones."

For illustration, if C in the lower part of the piano be struck, any or all of the notes that follow will sound if their keys are first pressed and held down.—Philadelphia Press.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

When you are all done but finishing, you are just half done.

If you have time to boast about being worked to death, you have not much to do.

Some people are so unfortunate that their troubles make people laugh instead of cry.

A man who underestimates himself may be tiresome, but he is not a circumstance to the man who brags.

People may disdain a compliment, but they feel a tender little spot in them where it hit and refused to be dislodged.

It is a theory growing in conviction that the man who says a mean thing about another isn't as mean as the man who carries it.

The man who travels over the path behind you wisely looks at your footprints and sees where you could have avoided many a pitfall.—Atchison Globe.

Tiny Trees.

The midget of the whole tree family is the Greenland birch. It is a perfect tree in every sense of that term and lives its allotted number of years from 75 to 130 just as other species of the great birch family do, although its height under the most favorable conditions seldom exceeds ten inches. Whole bluffs of the east and southeast coast of Greenland are covered with "thickets" of this diminutive species of woody plant, and in many places where the soil is uncommonly poor and frozen from eight to ten months a year a "forest" of these trees will flourish for half a century without growing to a height exceeding four inches.

Strange Dances.

Queensland's government aboriginal settlement on Frazer's island holds a weekly dance for the blacks. Among the bundles of old clothes sent to the settlement there are often ball gowns, so the girls sport décollete dresses. Neither sex wears boots. The sexes have to dance separately.—Sydney Bulletin.

Shrewd Guess.

Senior Partner—We must be careful not to give Billings any more credit. He's evidently losing money. Junior Partner—How do you know? Senior Partner—I heard his remark today that "life is full of ups and downs." No man ever admits that until he begins to strike the down.—Philadelphia Press.

Rejected.

"I have called," said the confident young man, with a manuscript sticking out of his pocket, "to see whether there is a vacancy in this office." "No," replied the melancholy editor as he looked round the place; "I'm sorry to say there is none. Even the waste paper basket is full."

A Change.

"Well, well! There goes Miss Strong. When I saw her last she was posing as a bachelor girl. That's her hobby." "All that's changed now. She dropped her hobby for a hubby."—Exchange.

FIRST CARRIAGE IN MAINE.

How a Minister Came to Buy It and Why He Sold It.

The Rev. Francis Winter was a native of Boston and a graduate of Harvard college. He went to Bath early in 1767 and, after preaching on probation for the orthodox church, was invited to settle, which invitation he accepted. He was ordained in the autumn of the same year. He went to Bath on horseback in company with Lemuel Standish. Mr. Winter came from Boston, where he had associated with such eminent men as Adams, Otis and Warren, himself becoming an ardent patriot, taking the lead in the Revolutionary measures adopted in Bath during that memorable period.

Mr. Winter married Miss Abigail Alden in 1768, and it is through her that the Winters of today trace their ancestry back to the "Puritan Maiden of Plymouth."

Three years after the marriage of the Rev. Francis Winter and Abigail Alden they started to visit a sister of Mrs. Winter living in Connecticut and intended to ride all the way on horseback, but Mrs. Winter became so fatigued that Mr. Winter sold one of the horses for a carriage and harness. It was the first carriage that ever came into Maine and was called a chaise. Travelling was so difficult that two negroes were employed to accompany them with shovels and axes to clear the road. Several times the chaise had to be taken apart and lifted over fallen trees. The minister's parishioners thought that it was putting on too much style for their pastor to ride in a carriage, and in consequence Mr. Winter sold it. This was in 1771. It was a two wheeled chaise, the body resting on leather braces, which were attached to wooden springs.—Lewiston Journal.

A DAZZLING EFFECT.

Old Time Illumination With Lanterns and Candles.

In these days of electric lights, with all their capabilities for brilliant illumination, it is amusing to read what the subjects of George II. considered a dazzling effect. A Frenchman visiting in London at the time of the coronation of that monarch in 1727 writes enthusiastically in praise of the lighting of the city as well as of a banquet display.

"Most of the streets," writes M. Saussure, "are wonderfully well lighted. In front of each house hangs a lantern, or large globe of glass, inside of which is placed a lamp which burns all night. Large houses have two of these suspended outside the doors by iron supports. Some even have four."

How one are light would have dazzled the good people of that day!

"When the coronation procession entered Westminster hall," the writer continues, "the light of day was beginning to fade. Forty chandeliers, in shape like a crown, hung from the ceiling, each having thirty-six wax candles."

"On the king's appearance all suddenly lighted, and every one in the room was filled with astonishment at the wonderful and unexpected illumination. Little cords of cotton wool, imperceptible to the eye, saturated with sulphur of saltpeter, spirits of wine and other ingredients, had been prepared and arranged so as to carry the flame rapidly from one candle to another. The arrangement had been so skillfully prepared that scarcely a candle failed to take fire."

For Dosing Oneself.

A physician recommends rochelle salts for amateur doctoring. He says that it is an excellent thing, several times a day, to take as much of the salts as may be put on a cent in a little water. That will sweeten the stomach and act as a very desirable spring medicine. He also speaks highly of soda, having no patience with those timid people who have an idea that it is a dangerous dose, doing some vague harm to the coating of the intestines. "Why, everything we eat, almost, has soda in it," he cried in disdain. "It is an admirable thing to take half rochelle salts and half bicarbonate of soda, as directed, several times a day. I know of few gentler and still more beneficial general medicines."
